Estrattoredati Spider Annunci is an intelligent program that crawls the largest Italian classifieds portals, such as Subito.it, AutoScout24, Kijiji, Bakeca.it, and Secondamano.it. You can get helpful information like phone numbers, email addresses (where there is one), descriptions of adverts, photographs, profile names of the advertiser, and many others with just a few clicks. This allows easy collection of contacts or building your own offline database of ads.

The Estrattoredati Spider Annunci also allows you to narrow down your search to what you specifically need by selecting the site, category, and location of advertisements. The day the results are available, all you have to do is press the “Capture” button, and the software will automatically gather all the information. Whether it's job offers in a particular city or cars in Italy, Spider Annunci neatly and efficiently organizes the data into an ordered list.

You can easily export the results to Excel, CSV, or TXT files when extraction is performed. This will allow you to review advertisements at a later time, distribute them to your team, or get in touch with advertisers. Its tool is programmed to save your time, be more efficient, and provide you with full control over the ads you gather.
