ElevateDB v2.33 Build 1 (VCL & PHP & ODBC Driver & Tools)

2025-01-27 09:33:00

Elevate DB is described to be an accredited for developer as well as contains a royalty-free distribution for the users and Developers. The license management is not basically required either way and also the money which the user is using in order to cover the user database engine is now at the gain of the user in order to maintain. the user does not need to use a feature crippled free merchandising in order to prevent the licensing fee. With the use of the Elevate software the user is backed by a business that has a lot more than a decade of expertise from a high distributed as well as prepackaged program software of database. Elevate DB was basically made in order to be comprised of a prepackaged database program and it has the ability to be installed very quickly and easily. The server agent one EXE and it only requires one INI text file for the process of configuration and it can be utilized right within an application for the service of the windows. It is basically designed in order to be included in a pre-packaged data application for the users and developers and also has the ability to automatically create the necessary files whenever they are required. The user has the ability to distribute a single database catalog file along with the user application and the Elevate DB has the ability to automatically create the table file when they are opened by the session additionally Elevate DB has the ability to provide a reverse engineering facility that permits the user in order to easily create the creation as well as upgrade the script of SQL that are capable of running during the process of installation to the transparently creating a very necessary system or even a database object. Once it is installed, Elevate DB is not fragile and it cannot be made in operable buy a different application installation process. A lot of databases are sensitive in order to performed the process of configuration and the changes and they require a constant attention by the administrator. It has been used basically in the retail POS by the user and Developers, Hospital management, dentist as well as physician practice management, and last but not least the public court system management. The application required a constant of time as well as a consistent performance for the application vendor to be successful. It also has the ability to help in bringing the same type of success to the user database application. The user does not require to use the feature creeper as it is backed by a company that has the ability to cover a decade of experience and a highly distributed and pre-packaged software application.

版本列表

ElevateDB v2.33 Build 1 (VCL & PHP & ODBC Driver & Tools)

所有软件资源 100%安全 已检测 无病毒 无篡改
去预览

标签

Delphi Components VCL