FileLocator Pro is a professional-grade search software meticulously designed to streamline data navigation and comprehension. Equipped with unique features, it empowers users to swiftly locate information across various file formats, from lines of source code to legal briefs, ensuring efficiency in information retrieval.

With its immediate results feature, FileLocator Pro enables users to review highlighted keywords and surrounding text, eliminating the need to open each file to find specific information manually. Additionally, its document browsing capabilities offer different views, allowing users to see hits highlighted within the context of the entire file, enhanced by syntax highlighting for easier source code reading across most programming languages.

The software boasts an extensive list of compatible file formats, ranging from PDFs to Office documents and ZIP files, ensuring comprehensive data retrieval. Whether searching through emails, contacts, or calendar items across multiple PST files in Outlook, or indexing vast amounts of data for near-instantaneous searches, prioritizes speed and efficiency without compromising control or resource consumption. Moreover, its reporting and exporting functionalities enable users to summarize, understand, and share search results effortlessly, enhancing collaboration and productivity.
