What is Portrait Retouching By Anil Raj

Portrait retouching is the process of enhancing and improving portrait photographs to achieve a desired aesthetic while maintaining the natural appearance of the subject. It's a common practice in photography and can be done using various photo editing software, such as Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Lightroom, or specialized portrait retouching tools.

The extent of portrait retouching can vary depending on the photographer's or client's preferences. Some portraits require only minor adjustments, while others may undergo more extensive retouching to achieve a specific look or style. It's important to strike a balance between enhancing the subject's appearance and maintaining their natural beauty and character. Communication between the photographer, retoucher, and subject is crucial to ensure the final result aligns with the intended vision for the portrait.
