Sketchbook Doodling – A Fun Way to Get Your Creativity Rolling: In this course, we'll enjoy exploring doodles based on geometric shapes. I'll share my methods of using doodles to develop numerous ideas quickly. Each doodle will stimulate the next and get our imagination going.

I enjoy taking time to chill and unwind each day before drawing in my sketchbook. This is something that most artists do, but you don't have to be a professional artist to take pleasure in drawing.

There's no need to be an artist; you don't need anything fancy, just a sketchbook and pen.

In this fast-paced digital age, it's easy to forget the pleasure of holding pen and paper while letting the imagination go free.

I frequently use doodles to fill in the gaps between my other sketches, stimulate more intricate patterns and doodles, and create a base for the final artwork.

Doodling can be fun. We fall into an elation state when we are engaged in the flowing forms and lines. Stress diminishes, and we feel a euphoria. Drawing allows us to get away from the stresses of everyday life by immersing ourselves in the relaxing process of drawing.

It's a kind of mindfulness in which we are in the present and appreciate just drawing.

Sketchbooks give us an uninhibited space to think about ideas and foster our creativity. Drawing helps us tap into the subconscious and unlock the potential for inspiration when we set pencil to paper.

We'll begin by taking the time to walk around our area and locating patterns and shapes to capture and make a base to sketch our ideas.

Then, we can use a fine liner or felt-tipped pen to create the shapes into more complicated designs and doodles, each of which could later be used to create more elaborate and more extensive designs.

Let our imaginations go wild and discover where it takes us. By the end of the course, you'll have an idea bank that can be used to create sketchbooks daily or to add to your final artwork.

Feel free to share your work on social media with the hashtag #nicsquirrellskillshare. I often share a few of them on my Instagram Stories.
