Color Characters 104: Coloring and Painting Styles: Welcome to Color Characters 104, the fourth installment of a comprehensive 5-part character coloring course designed to equip you with all the essential skills for coloring characters effectively.

The first part of this course will be released on November 25, followed by a new section every week for the next five weeks. I'm Scott, and I'm here to share why this course stands out as the ultimate guide for character coloring, catering to artists at various levels of expertise.

What are Color Characters?

Color Characters is a 6-module, flexible video course crafted to transform you into a proficient character colorist and painter. Whether you're a beginner or already at an intermediate level, this course is designed to elevate your skills to a professional standard. The course comprises guided video modules, offering comprehensive lessons, assignments, and practical applications to enhance your character coloring and painting abilities.

Why Choose Color Characters?

I'm dedicated to teaching you to color and paint characters confidently and skillfully. The course covers core theory, workflows, and practical techniques essential for professional-level character coloring and painting. Whether you want to create character concept art for films, games, illustrations, comics, manga, or Disney styles, Color Characters is your go-to course.

Discover Your Style:

Whether your interest lies in coloring and painting characters for games, comics, cartoons, manga, animation, or more, this course accommodates diverse styles. Rather than teaching a specific 'method,' Color Characters focuses on cultivating fundamental skills to make you a proficient character colorist and painter.

Join me on this artistic journey, and let's elevate your character coloring and painting skills together. Let's get started!

- Finally, Learn Character Coloring and Painting Well: Suitable for beginners and intermediates, this course unveils aspects you may not have needed to learn.
