Are you looking to know how to create quality videos on YouTube, work as a freelancer, or even create videos for your business using PowerPoint?

With the recent enhancements to the recording options of Microsoft PowerPoint was not that easy to utilize it as a solid, reliable professional, and professional video production tool. Video-making skills are more crucial than ever before, and we are given a great opportunity to stand out from the crowd by making use of software such as PowerPoint to make your videos efficiently and quickly.

The course is designed to show you everything you need to know about video and animation using PowerPoint that you should learn.

Like all my classes, instead of simply demonstrating software, this course will concentrate on specific applications and demonstrate a practical procedure for creating a video from a blank screen to an animated and stunningly illustrated video that's ready for export and publication. I've created specific templates and resources to ensure we can collaborate.

The course and its activities are well-planned and well-laid out. We operate in the following sequence:

1. Finding the right images and resources
2. Making a script and designing the whole video
3. The animation of sequences and timing of the slides precisely
4. Recording a voice-over and then exporting your video!

The templates and resources are unique and created by me and your instructor (Hi Andrew! Andrew ;). You will be able to find them within this course. They're created to help you learn the latest design, animation, and video-making techniques, including using the Morph feature, which smooths animations or downloads high-quality materials.

We will make a variety of kinds of animated videos in this class:

1. An animated explainer video that has an audio narration
