TMS FNC Blox simplifies diagramming and flowcharting across VCL, FireMonkey, and TMS WEB Core platforms with its high-performance, multi-platform codebase. Users can swiftly create diagrams with anti-aliased precision, utilizing a range of ready-to-use flowcharts, arrows, and electrical blocks. The intuitive interface allows seamless selection, editing, and manipulation of elements, enhancing workflow efficiency.

This component boasts an open architecture, enabling developers to craft custom blocks and lines inherited from base classes. With customizable link points and a flexible linking system, users can tailor diagrams to their specific needs. Advanced features such as block rotation, gradient support, and bezier lines enhance visual appeal and functionality.

provides essential tools for diagram management, including snap grids, rulers, and clipboard operations. Additionally, a dedicated toolbar component simplifies diagram editing without requiring manual coding. With its comprehensive feature set and cross-platform compatibility, TMS FNC Blox offers a versatile solution for creating high-quality diagrams in various application contexts.
