FX Zukunft is a collection of unique tracks, sounds, and sequences tracks, drawn from an array of analog and digital tolls. The pack is suitable for different kinds of styles, it could be used as a track opener or as an additional element, adding the spark you need in your track! This pack contains a hundred loops as well as 56 solo sounds (that can also be used as loops) as well as 14 ambient tracks that range from 22 seconds to more than an hour in length.

In addition, they are extremely useful for the context of any bass or electronic music composition when in need of a unique sound that is distinctive, these samples are also great background music for games or other visual projects. The samples are divided into 3 sections, Sequences that include 100 loops, Chords, and Stabs with 56 sounds to create your loops from and along Atmospheres which includes fourteen tracks (10 minutes of evolving ambient sounds) that you can utilize in their entirety or cut and take samples of the music you like!

In this pack, you'll discover a variety of distinctive sounds, ranging from powerful electronic bass to crisp and warm synth sounds to spacious percussive components and transition or tension-building loops and single shots. We're confident that these sounds (designed entirely from scratch, with particular attention to tiny particulars) will be awe-inspiring and provide your tracks with something more distinctive.
