Raize Software CodeSite Studio v5.5.0 for Delphi 10-12 Athens Retail + Serial Number

2026-04-09 22:01:18

Raize Software CodeSite Studio empowers developers with comprehensive insights into their code execution, facilitating quicker problem detection and performance monitoring. By instrumenting their code with CodeSite loggers, developers can effortlessly send CodeSite messages to a live display or log file during program execution. These messages can encode various types of information, ranging from strings to objects, providing a versatile logging solution for debugging and analysis purposes.

offers robust tools for information capture and analysis. Developers can utilize CodeSite loggers to capture desired information and categorize messages efficiently. The included CodeSite Live Viewer and File Viewer enable developers to analyze CodeSite messages during the development and testing phases. These viewers feature user-friendly interfaces with multiple panes for easy navigation and message inspection, enhancing debugging.

Moreover, the CodeSite Dispatcher acts as an intermediary, managing the distribution of CodeSite messages to various destinations such as the Live Viewer, log files or remote dispatchers. This ensures minimal performance impact on the application while facilitating multi-application log files and remote message transport.
