Conveyor permits you to easily examine web applications from outside tablets and mobiles in your system.

Lets you get your internet applications from different machines like iOS and Android apparatus, even if the web application is hosted on the development server. Use this when analyzing your internet job from desktops, tablets, or phones. You can tunnel access to yo...

The"accessibility over net" tube support has it's own correctly reputable certification, so no installation is essential. Nevertheless, the Remote URL (for access over the LAN) runs using a self-signed certification. To properly get the Remote Desktop URL from different machines/devices you only have to set up Conveyor's CA certificate in your device, please click on the certificate icon at the URL grid for directions.

Please locate the principal Conveyor bundle should you use VS 2013 or newer. Lets you get your internet applications from different machines like iOS and Android apparatus, even if the web application is hosted.
