Design, Build, and Publish your Portfolio with Figma and Framer: Unlock the full potential of Figma and Framer in this exciting course! Designing in Figma is a delight; it is straightforward, open, and endlessly creative. However, the challenge often lies in transforming these designs into fully functional websites. The good news? Enter the era of no-code tools, with Framer leading the way as a web builder armed with a powerful visual editor, allowing you to bring your designs to life without any coding.

In this hands-on course, we'll explore bridging the gap between Figma and Framer using the "Figma to Framer" plugin.

Here's what you'll learn:

- How to design your portfolio using Figma.
- The seamless integration of the Framer plugin breathes life into your Figma designs.
- Techniques for creating responsive portfolios optimized for various devices.
- Building interactive links between portfolio pages for a seamless user experience.
- Harnessing the power of Framer's CMS collections to manage your content effortlessly.
- Adding subtle animations to captivate your audience.
- The step-by-step process of publishing your portfolio to a custom domain.

This class is perfect for:

- Design enthusiasts are crafting their first portfolio.
- Experienced designers are looking to revamp existing portfolios.
- Professionals aiming to impress clients and potential employers.
- Anyone interested in design, regardless of prior experience.

No prior knowledge of Framer or Figma is required; this class accommodates all skill levels. To get the most out of it, all you need is a computer with internet access, a Framer account, a Figma account, and, of course, enthusiasm and creativity!

Why should you take this class?

Your design portfolio is your gateway to career opportunities and client engagements. Mastering the art of creating dynamic portfolios on Framer enhances your professional image and allows you to stand out in a competitive design landscape. By joining this course, you'll acquire valuable skills essential for success in the digital design world. Your portfolio is your calling card, and this class will empower you to make it remarkable.
