Looptone NY Boom Bap (WAV): "NY Boom Bap" from Loop Tones offers classic Hip Hop styling met with contemporary production styles in this collection of head-shaking full-phat loops and single-shots developed by Brooklyn-based musician and music producer Dan Walker.

Founder of The Submarine studio in Bushwick, and a guitarist/singer/writer/producer with legendary art rock outfit The Death Set, Dan's production credentials are unquestionable. He's worked at a variety of world-class studios like Studio 301 and Uptime Studios in New York and has engineered and played on records with Ninja Tune, Dim Mak, DFA, and Ultra, among others. He also along with The Death Set - remixed the songs of Little Boots, Daedalus, and Spankrock.

"NY Boom Bap" NY Boom Bap" explores the more experimental aspect that is a part of the Hip Hop genre, exuding New York attitude and authenticity from beginning to end. Dan has brought a range of high-end hardware to his mixing and recording process which include the Kush Audio Fatso, API 2500 compressor, EMI Chandler Limited TG2 preamps, and Manley Massive Passive and Empirical Labs's distressors. The top-quality outboards have been used in the creation of an amazing 100% analog processing chain, which incorporates incredible dynamic shaping, saturation, and equalization into every sound.

The 81 balls-busting Boom Bap drum loops serve as an excellent introduction to beat programming and processing as 46 massive synth bass loops provide rock n' roll, while the guitar loops are based on diverse styles, ranging that range from Surf Rock to Reggae. These music loops sound also varied, with a variety of energized lead lines, bouncy keyboard riffs, and lush pads. In addition, the FX folder contains 15 faceslapping hits stops, and incidentals.

A special mention should be given to the rap vocals that are performed in a unique style from Robin Hughes. In addition to 33 complete sentences and phrases, the 94 smaller single-shots offer many punctuation options ideal for samplers.

It is confidently performed with the full sonic power and polish only years of studio experience can offer Dan Walker's 'NY Boom Bap is an eclectic and inspirational source of beats B-lines, and melodies to producers who produce Hip Hop, RnB, Trap, and many other Urban styles.
