Rando Mixer 1.10 for 3ds max:

RandoMixer is a versatile 3dsMax plugin designed to automatically generate multiple scene variants, offering extensive customization and management within a collection of states.

It randomizes transforms and materials, swaps objects, scatters elements, and creates dynamic animations. Applications include brainstorming scene layouts, producing unique versions for clients, generating 3D NFT collections, and facilitating animation states.

Features include random object transforms, material switching, collision detection during object scattering, and auto-population of furniture.

It supports geometry, lights, cameras, and various render engines.

Dedicated tools enable the creation and management of NFT collections, animation exports, and a comprehensive collection manager.

RandoMixer is a valuable tool for professionals in architectural visualization, animation, game art, VFX, and design, streamlining the creative process and enhancing efficiency.
