Kellerman Software .NET PGP Library v1.13 (15 Sep 2020) Retail

2024-12-18 23:02:45

The Kellerman software has the ability to be purchased separately by the user and the developer and this particular product is also being included in the gold suite. It has been founded in the year 2001 as a solution for the software for international and in the year 2005 they change the name to reflect are moved from the MS-access shareware product of the business to the commercial developer tools of the business. The gold suite subscribers are capable of receiving all the product update as well as the new product as a part of the annual subscription. It considers being the best value right in the industry. It should be added that the Kellerman software is creating powerful tools and libraries since the Year 2040 users and developers. The mission and the goal of the Kellerman software are to provide a very easy as well as a robust tool that has the ability to save the time of the user and the developer. The products that they produce are basically very ready to solve the complex challenges for the companies. Recently it was successful and proud to announce the availability of the very easy database creator. The easy database Creator is basically the fastest way by which the user has the ability to create schemas for the user database. It has the ability to create automatically and add all the primary and foreign keys.

Kellerman Software .NET PGP Library Great Features:

It has the following features and attributes that are stated below such as:

- It has the ability to perform the process of encryption and decryption of the files with the use of a single line of code easily and with flexibility.
- It has the ability to perform the encryption and decryption process of the streams likewise with a single line of code.
- It has the ability to generate public as well as private key pairs.
- It has the ability to add data as well as the Integrity packets.
- The output to the ASCII with the use of the ASCII Armor.
- It has the ability to support the PGP version of 2 as well as PGP the version of 3.
- It is capable of using synchronous as well as asynchronous encryption as well as decryption.
- It is very compatible with the file Assurity, PGP command line, GPG4 Win, Symantec desktop, and so on.
- The ability to Leverage the bouncy castle and the encryption of the algorithm which are FIPS compliant.
- It has the ability to provide desktop application demo in the format of C2# as well as VB. NET.
- They are capable of providing agile practices to the user and the developer.
- It is said that they have an international processor in the place that permits the user and the developer in order to rapidly respond to the user needs.
- Whenever a defect occurs, it has the ability to create within 7 business days.
- All the product that is produced is usually available with free lifetime support of email for the users and the developers.
- The competition which is present in all of their Pages for each product is capable of showing the software of the Kellerman as a clear winner in all the capabilities.
- Almost all the operations are capable of being performed with the use of a single line of code.

所有软件资源 100%安全 已检测 无病毒 无篡改
去预览

标签

Components Other .Net