TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms v10.0.1

2026-08-26 15:27:04

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms describe to be a powerful spell checking as well as language tool for the users and developers and mainly for the windows forms application. With the use of integrated TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms the user has the ability to get the picture such as support for the multilingual document. It has the ability to perform the process of language detection and the language scopes from a given string or even a complete document which is present for more than 30 languages and it can be detected. With the use of the TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms, the user has the ability to add very fast as well at the highly reliable and very accurate spell checking to the user TX Text Control which is based application. The process of integration of the TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms right into the TX Text Control requires no code at all and it can be easily connected with the use of the Visual Studio debugger. For about 50000 words per second TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms has the fastest spell checking in June for the windows forms present.

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms Great Features:

With the utilization of the TX Spell .NET right to the Windows form the user has the ability to add a very incredibly classed as well as a highly reliable, and at the same time a very exact spell checking process to application that are based on TX Text Control.

Certain words that are not in the selected or even user dictionary are underlined with the use of a wavy red lines and visible to the user and the developer. TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms is responsible for checking the spelling as you type persistently, carefully word by word as the user copies and pastes. By the process of right clicking on the spelling mistake which is present a context menu will pop up with a suggestion as well as auctions in order to ignore or add to the user dictionary. This is how the user can get rid of the wavy red lines.

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms has been described to be tested with over 60 freely available dictionaries for the user and developer. In this the American English has been shipped as a standard and the user does not have to pay any extra amount for additional language. Unrecognized words as well as the specialist vocabulary such as they are legal or the medical terms are being added to the user dictionary in order to assist the end user in order to maintain the user dictionary TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms has the capability to ship with a user dictionary editor easily and flexibly.

With the use of the integrated dialog box the user has the ability to see which words are being correctly spelled as well as replaced and the word with one or more suggestions, ignoring the spelling mistake or even ignoring it completely for the

所有软件资源 100%安全 已检测 无病毒 无篡改
去预览

标签

Components Winforms .Net

user. This particular option of the dialog box permits the user and developer in order to specify what kind of words should be ignored and what kind of words should be repeated and considered a spelling mistake or not.

Unlike other spell checkers the TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms it is capable of supporting the multilingual documents and it is very possible for the user in order to check a document that contains English, German, Spanish as well as French text without having to switch between the dictionaries manually.

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms is capable of supporting the detecting of the language the for the user. The scope of the language from a given string or even a complete document for more than 30 languages has been detected. In this case the algorithm is capable of supporting the next score such as the bracketed text or even the bi-directional text in different mixed languages. In the TX Text Control, the language has the ability to be defined with the use of the selection culture property. Based on their language detection the proper dictionaries are being added to the dictionary collection or even the appropriate hyphenation released which can be loaded later.

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms is capable of providing different methods in order to hyphenate words in the documents that are multilingual. It has the ability to return the hyphenation points forward that are defined. Whenever the user is connected to the TX Text Control, the hyphenation is capable of working automatically based on the language region which is new in the TX Text Control.

版本列表

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms v7.0

TX Spell .NET for Windows Forms v10.0.1

苏ICP备19032038号 Powered by getShopSys