We all love photographing newborns, either at their homes or in a studio. Editing for the unique needs of infants and toddlers can be a challenge, though the skin of newborns can be red, they also come with yellowish-yellow shades. The skin can appear blotchy, or uneven, their small foreheads are often quite coarse and this can create a difficult editing process!

This set was designed specifically to tackle these issues. Its Beautiful Newborn Preset Collection will swiftly transform what initially been tedious and tedious editing into something easy quick and enjoyable. If you're a fan of efficiency or are committed to giving the highest quality outcomes to your customers, you'll need to include these presets in your toolbox for photographers now.

3. Create and save your presets

Open each of the newly added DNG files, tap the 3 dots at the top right, and choose CREATE PRESET.

Give each preset a name (use the name of the DNG file here) and add it to a new preset group (make a group called The Beautiful Newborns to keep your presets organized).TICK the boxes for ALL the settings you'd like to save under the preset (select everything except Tools, Optics, and Geometry).

SAVE your preset. Repeat for each of the DNG files.

4. Start editing!

Choose any photograph and locate PRESETS by scrolling along the options at the bottom of the screen. Find the preset you'd like to preview and select it.
