The class is split into three extensive chapters:

Presentation FRAMEWORKS A template to create the perfect presenter. I'm here to help you learn presentation principles and the frameworks that top consulting firms utilize in their presentations. For instance, how to create Action Titles, use the MECE principle, create an SCR storyline, build your vertical and horizontal flow, or write Executive Summaries.

DATA Visualization - What chart should you use in what circumstance? We will go over the most frequently used charts in PowerPoint, and I'll guide you through the tiny kinks to allow you to work efficiently and confidently next time you're faced with placing your data into charts. I will help you understand and simplify the process of creating charts for those who need to create charts.

Presentation Creation - Create a PowerPoint template and presentation. Here I will discuss how to create an impressive PowerPoint template from scratch and how to work with PowerPoint's Slide Master and create customized layouts. Then, I'll explain how to create an impressive, professional-looking presentation with slide-by-slide. You'll have all the tools to collaborate with me and master the techniques I employ in my presentations to design and create powerful and easy-to-understand presentations.

Resources for working along. The course includes unique and custom "work-along" resources explicitly designed to help reinforce every aspect of the learning process. If you wish to, you will be able to work with me throughout the entire course. Each resource includes a completed and blank practice file so you can see the final outcome and develop your personal version.

The primary focus of this class is formal presentation and data visualization. What hinders you from creating exciting and memorable presentations? It's not just technical expertise, but more often, the employed principles to remove 50% of the brain's workload. I made sure to design the course to make it an effortless and seamless learning experience you will enjoy.
